Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the friction wheel transmission, band variator, chain variator, tapered ring transmission and continuous hydrostatic transmission of the independent claims, as well as the embodiments recited in claim 20 must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 19 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Claims 19 and 21 are in the Markus format and depend from other Markus claims. The embodiments of claims 19 and 21 are not disclosed because the ones which are recited cannot be derived from the embodiments recited in the independent Markus claims. Even further, the scope of the dependent claims is confusing since there would be 18 possible combinations from each claim.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 20 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. In claim 20, there is no antecedent for "the belt" or for "the additional planetary gearset".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3681

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 18 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schmidt '477. Schmidt shows an arrangement for a continuously variable transmission wherein an additional planetary gearset 18 precedes a toroidal variator 14 and is followed by a variator output transmission 38. The transmission has multiple ranges, two functioning regions, and a geared neutral.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fellows '998. Fellows shows a toroidal continuously variable transmission with a belt 42 connecting the output from the variator to a countershaft. The arrangement includes a planetary gear set e for splitting the power from input shaft 2, a variator 41, a first spur gear step 51 and a second spur gear step 54.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmidt '477 in view of Wafzig '421. Wafzig shows an arrangement for a CVT wherein the additional planetary gearset 2 is disposed between the toroidal cavities 7 and 8. The variator output transmission 3 and 4 is disposed after the cavities. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in this art to modify Schmidt in such a way that the additional planetary gearset was disposed between the variator cavities because it is a known solution used in the same technology.

Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schmidt '477. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in this art provide gearing with overdrive, direct, reduction or any combination thereof with associated brakes and clutches to obtain the designers goals because there would be no unexpected results and it would have been obvious to try each solution as required.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 29-34 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
